The Moomba Dwarf

It is a crime to disturb the Moomba Dwarf,
When he is in his private place.

Often it's said, you're better off dead,
Than to trouble him by the by.

As sleeping dogs lie, you better decide
The moment has not yet come.

Best bide your time at least just now,
And wait for rainbows to show.

For without that bow, there never will be
Naught but, a whole pot of pain.

So wait with me and soon we will see
The dwarf; benevolent and kind.
