

Vicki Stevens

STIRRING GHOSTS

Eager to escape her troubles in Shadow Creek, Abby Eaton agrees to help her sister and brother-in-law ready historic Grassington Estate as a luxury guesthouse. The allegedly haunted country mansion owned by the Greenwood family rouses her curiosity, driving her to sort fact from myth, and reality from illusion. When eerie occurrences threaten her sanity, and treachery results in murder, she wonders who to fear the most, the living or the dead.

Through decades of pain and loss, the Greenwood women have learnt to rely on their wits to combat wickedness in varied forms. While Olivia takes matters into her own hands, Elodie draws strength from a set of rituals. During a time of renewed hope, trouble returns, forcing them both to act with dire consequences.

Bearing witness to everything within its walls is a house wishing to rid itself of ghosts, especially the vengeful entity inciting violence for a despicable death. Choosing Abby to be the liberator, will she help purge Grassington of evil, or succumb to its malevolence like others before?

STIRRING GHOSTS is another thrilling Abby Eaton mystery with an evocative dual timeline. Spanning the late 1800s and early 1900s, the past story touches on the sufferings of a new century, while the present grapples with remorse and restitution for recent mistakes and inherited guilt.